Cpl. Tom Earl Killed In Action

S. W. Warren received the sad news on Sunday that his nephew Cpl. Tom Earl of the Seaforth Highlanders C. A. O. S. had been killed in action in Italy, May 2nd.

Tom Earl will be remembered by many residents of this district, having spent the summer of 1935 visiting his uncle on his farm, south of Chinook.

Born and educated in Winnipeg he is survived by his parents, two sisters and two brothers who are both serving in the Canadian Forces. For Tom the battle is over, the Victory won, for us to grasp the torch, and carry on to Victory, in the fight for freedom and our way of life.

Mrs. Otto of Nordegg arrived here on Tuesday and is visiting at the home of Mrs. Milligan.

Mr. Thos. Gilbertson is a Calgary visitor this week.

Private L. E. Milligan and sister, Mrs. Joyce Hogg arrived here on Tuesday morning and will spend two weeks with their parents.

Mrs. M. C. Nicholson was a Calgary week end visitor.

Mrs. Targett left on Wednesday night for Calgary where she will spend a few days.

YOUNGSTOWN NEWS

Donald Ray R. C. A. F. of Vancouver B. C. is spending a two weeks leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Ray.

Mr. David Dishan and family motored to Calgary on Sunday, where they will spend a few days.

Edward Hunter R. C. A. F. who recently spent a leave at his home left last Friday.

Robert Blair R. C. A. F. of Dufur, Saskatchewan, spent a three days' leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Blair, leaving Monday.

William Jansiewicz R. C. A. F. visited with his uncle Mr. Jansiewicz and Eva, last Friday.

I had a nightmare...

I dreamed that I paid $5.00 for a haircut and $50.00 for a pair of cardboard shoes. I dreamed that we had no wartime controls on prices, profits or wages, and that we hadn't had the sense to organize the distribution of supplies all the way down the line...

I dreamed that because everyone was making more money and spending it, prices were skyrocketing.

all the stores looked like "fire" sales... with people scrambling to buy before prices went still higher...

panicky people were buying things they didn't need, and hoarding everything they could get their hands on...

I dreamed that everybody had to fight to get more money... and that in this mad race, wages and salaries were falling behind.

I dreamed the hand of everyone was against his neighbour, with each of us blaming the other fellow for his troubles.

with everybody for himself... no matter what it cost in the long run... and no matter how it hurt the war effort.

THEN... THANK GOODNESS - I WOKE UP!

to realize with relief that I live in a country where things are sane and stable... where the cost of living has been kept within bounds.

to realize that prices and wages—production costs and selling prices—are inseparably linked together.

to realize that without the safeguards that have headed off inflation, my nightmare might have become a reality!

to remind myself that the danger is still pressing and that we must continue to hold firm... and that means everybody must play fair and do his part by not trying to get some temporary, fancied advantage at the expense of his fellow-Canadians.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

SHOES!

— By —
JOSEPH J. SANDA
McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Mr. Williger's face brightened. There in the door of the shoe store stood Mr. Benton in an attitude of welcome.

Mr. Williger's lank frame moved with new buoyancy. He'd have something to show for his labors today. Benton's store was one place that made his work a pleasure. It was no lark finding attentive ears and responsive minds for his plans in behalf of the Charities Group and its shoe fund. At times, he grew almost sick with discouragement. But occasionally he managed to reap a good harvest for the needy. The Group was proud of him.

"Here we are again," Mr. Williger announced, as he followed Benton into the store.

Inside, his eyes took in the shelves closely packed with high quality stock. Then, for some reason, he felt disturbed. Could he expect Benton to donate a whole case of shoes again, odd lots though they might be? The man looked sombre. And when Benton spoke, his voice lacked something. "Of course, I'm happy to see you again Mr. Williger," he was saying, "but I'm afraid I can't do anything for you this time. Sorry."

Mr. Williger thought Benton really was sorry. He could tell that by his sad, kind eyes and the way he held his head. It seemed to him the gray hair had turned somewhat whiter.

"I'm beginning to think that moving my store next door to the newest and biggest hotel in the city wasn't such a good idea, after all," Benton continued. "My old customers don't seem to realize that I'm here. Maybe they don't care." Benton sighed. "And they were the best people."

"You deserve a good business," Mr. Williger said earnestly. Benton tried to sound cheerful. "It's true I haven't been very busy lately, but—who can tell? A good stock turnover and then we'll have

"Gentle All-Bran keeps me regular"

"You bet I think ALL-Bran is helpful for constipation. It sure helped me. You see I'd been dosing myself for years with many kinds of purgatives which helped only briefly. But eating ALL-Bran keeps me free of that. Now I'm regular as a clock—and I like ALL-Bran a lot."

something for you. Eh, Mr. Williger?" Mr. Williger nodded. Benton was a fine man. He wished he could do something. He felt low, but his spirits rose at the thought of today's luncheon given by the city's combined civic clubs. He might still make up for the disappointment he had suffered at Benton's. He was grateful for permission to say a few words about the shoe fund. He felt particularly kindly toward A. B. Chester, chairman of the committee. It was still early, and the luncheon was to be held in the hotel before which he stood. Mr. Williger stepped inside the lobby. He could sink into a comfortable chair and ponder on his problem.

There would be about two hundred guests, he thought. Men of business, for the most part. It would be no easy task to make them deep into his pockets and come up with something tangible. That was what he wanted. Not expressions of moral support nor pledges that did not survive the enthusiasm of the moment. He had experienced all that before.

They began to appear, these men whose generosity he would soon test. He wondered if A. B. Chester would arrive early. He hoped that he would. It might be worth while to have a chat with him before the affair.

A. B. Chester strode into the lobby. Mr. Williger arose to meet him. Shortly afterward, arm in arm, they sought the banquet hall.

Mr. Williger sat down with mixed feelings. The applause which had followed his impassioned plea for aid for the needy was dying down. Then A. B. Chester rose to his feet. "Gentlemen," he began, "you have all heard Mr. Williger's remarks." His voice lifted. "Men, let there be an answer to them—not with words, but with action!"

And, forthwith, A. B. Chester bent low to the floor. When he straightened, he raised his arm over his head. From his hand dangled his shoes. "Here," he cried, "is my contribution!" He brought the shoes down upon the tablecloth with a resounding thump.

Eyes widened in disbelief at what they beheld. A gasp was audible from one side of the room. A laugh from another. Then several voices broke out in unison. "And here's mine!"

Shouts, blended with applause and laughter, filled the hall. "Take mine!" — "And mine, too!"

Heads were bobbing up and down at all tables. Men grinned, voices chorried. This was going to be something to be remembered!

Mr. Williger looked bewildered. Everywhere — shoes there — shoes everywhere! All his for the taking. What publicity this would bring!

A. B. Chester's smile was that of a victor—his glance at Mr. Williger said, "I told you I'd handle them." And now he was drawing out his wallet. He would make a thorough job of it.

Mr. Williger arose abruptly. He must get to a phone.

"Mr. Benton! . . . Williger speaking. . . I'm here at the hotel. . . Get ready for a good stock turnover. . . Some of your old customers. . . They'll have any number of shoes everywhere. . . And if you're stocked in socks, get 'em out. . . They'll need them too. . . See you later." Mr. Williger could imagine the look on Benton's face.

Hurrying back to the banquet hall, he found A. B. Chester leading a parade of shoeless diners to the elevators. Mr. Williger rushed up to him, gratitude shining in his eyes. A. B. Chester held up his hand. "Say nothing about it, Mr. Williger," he said. "Go back in there and take the shoes away. You'll find money in a jar at your place. And I'd like to tell you," he lowered his voice, "I rather enjoyed all this. You see, I manufacture shoes."

British Scientists

Have Developed Many Revolutionary Weapons Of War

The record of British scientists at war has proved them more than worthy of this recognition. Many of the newest and most revolutionary weapons of war—whether defensive or offensive—have been the product of British brains. Meanwhile in other fields research has gone forward, and discoveries have been made which will prove of lasting benefit to the world when the war is over.

Radar, probably the greatest weapon in air warfare, was first discovered and perfected in Britain, and shared with Britain's Allies. In the Battle of Britain it tipped the balance against Germany—and in favor of the whole civilized world.

Since these days Britain has developed many other weapons for air warfare. After Radar came improved anti-aircraft guns, culminating in the now famous secret "Z" rocket gun.

Britain's new air weapons have been just as much offensive as defensive. The "backroom boys," as her scientists are called, have produced bombs which have grown bigger and more powerful every year. Their latest is a 12,000-pounder—so large that experts thought they could never get it inside a filling factory. The application of the degaussing grid to the hulls of ships, thus neutralizing the effect of the German magnetic mine, was equal to a major victory at sea. Within a few weeks British scientists had defeated the menace of what Germany had vaunted as a war-winning weapon.

SELECTED RECIPES

GRANDMOTHER'S SUGAR COOKIES

¾ cup shortening
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed ½ cup corn syrup
2 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla or lemon extract
2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup sifted corn starch
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
½ teaspoon soda
Cream shortening and gradually beat in brown sugar and corn syrup, blending thoroughly. Add beaten eggs and flour. Sift dry ingredients together three times and add to cream mixture in five or six additions, working in gradually until all has been used. Roll out thin on a floured board and cut in rounds or desired shapes. Place on greased baking sheet; bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 12 to 15 minutes. When cool, put together in pairs with jam, jelly, apple butter, etc.; or serve plain. Yield: 4 dozen cookies (about 2½ inches in diameter).

Three thousand miles of travel through 2 countries brought Senorita Aileen Barnett to Toronto to enlist in the C.W.A.C.

Her home is in Salinas, San Luis Potosi, Mexico, and she enjoys a dual Mexican and British citizenship. Daughter of an English father and an American mother, Pte. Barnett, a tall, graceful 19-year-old, was born in Salinas. She was educated by a governess at home and attended Bishop Strachan School in Toronto for two years. She graduated from high school in Toronto and studied for a year at Texas Teacher's College. Prior to her enlistment in the Corps in February, she was employed as a private secretary for the Salinas de Mexico, a British mining company of which Mr. Barnett is general manager.

Materials and working equipment for the majority of these projects are purchased through the Canadian Legion Educational Services. Leather-tooling, knitting, embroidery, clay modelling, pottery making, wood-carving and weaving are only a few of the handicrafts being delved into with great interest by the Army girls.

Versatility—To Pte. Betty Stevens in No. 29 C.W.A.C. Administrative Unit in Vancouver, B.C., goes the tag of "most versatile CWAC". Betty manages after her regular duty hours to run her unit's paper single-handed. She does the reporting, editing and printing of the "Puddle Duck", CWAC newspaper in Pacific Command.

Training—Only confirmed regimental sergeant major in the Canadian Women's Army Corps is tall, handsome R.S.M. Rena Frodo, Edmonton, Alta. Rena is stationed at the C.W.A.C. basic training centre at Kitchener, Ont. Contrary to all Army traditions regarding sergeant-majors, Rena is one of the most popular young women in the huge camp. An all-out, first-of-her-kind enthusiast, she is in addition to her work as R.S.M., captain of the training centre's basketball and softball teams. She has been stationed at Kitchener since November, 1942.

The Poultry Flock

Must Keep Close Watch To See That Birds Are Healthy

A high degree of health is the greatest asset of the poultry flock. By nature birds are healthy. When they are not, there is a definite cause. The alert poultryman can foresee trouble coming and in most cases can take steps to prevent it. Some of the signs of departure from the normal or early cessation of production are sharpness of the keel bone when felt by hand, thinness of the abdomen, dryness of the skin, and dullness of the eye. They justify an immediate search for the cause. The very actions of the flock, the industry, the uniformity of their daily feed consumption and many other things are all indications of health and health to be.

Trapping which entails the handling of the birds every day helps the poultryman to know his flock intimately. The moment a bird slips into his hands, a keen poultryman knows whether that hen is going to continue laying or not. In addition to the head points, the hen feels warm and firm, plump and well-conditioned, with a reserve of soft fat apparent in the abdomen, and with the skin soft and velvety to the touch. Time spent with the birds is time well spent, and enables the poultryman to feel great satisfaction in fulfilling to the letter what he knows to be his first responsibility—the health of his flock.

"It's the Fuehrer's custom," says the German newspaper, "to be absolutely alone for an hour each day. It must seem longer considering who he's with, says PUNCH.

Farm Machinery

Farmers Are Urged To Repair The Binder Now

Farmers are urged to check carefully their binders at the earliest opportunity, and to order needed repairs without delay so that every binder, old or new, should be in the best possible condition for the beginning of harvest.

The Dominion Department of Agriculture advises that particular attention should be paid to the binding mechanism to ensure trouble-free operation and reduce loss of time during harvest.

Be sure that the binder knottor is in first-class condition and is kept in proper adjustment. Where grooves have been worn in the twine guides these should be filed out smooth. A badly grooved bill-hook should be replaced.

The twine knife should be replaced if worn down, and it should be kept sharp for best operation. This is particularly important this year as the binder twine produced for 1944 will contain 12½ per cent. jute in the fibre. However, the quality of the 1944 wartime binder twine is the very best that can be manufactured from the wartime materials available. Field tests made under normal farm conditions, without special adjustment of the binder, indicate that with ordinary care all binders in reasonable repair can use this wartime twine.

Huns Desecrated Graves Of Bishops In Russian Cathedral

According to a U.S.S.R. bulletin the Germans knew that in ancient times Novgorod princes and bishops were buried under the floor of the Cathedral, with their crosses and precious jewels. In their search for these treasures, the Hitlerites tore up the flagstones and desecrated the graves. The remains of the Novgorod princes and archbishops have disappeared. The Nazi goons removed them with their robes and valuables.

CANNOT BE BLAMED

Much is said from time to time—and rightly, we think—of the horridly inelegant habit of chewing tobacco. But, says the Ottawa Citizen, in all fairness, has it ever been known to start a bush fire? And can as much be said of the more socially accepted cigarette? Or Paw's pipe?

Clothing Exchanges

Mobile Exchanges For Children's Clothing In Great Britain

Children's Clothing Exchanges had not been long in existence in Britain before the need to adapt them for rural districts was realized. Village women found it next to impossible to come into the towns with their children, and the idea of setting up small static Exchanges in the villages themselves was impracticable. Clothing cannot be exchanged indefinitely within a tiny community where everyone knows each other. The Mobile Exchanges have solved such problems.

BUTTONS, SNAPS, HOOKS AND EYES

Use a double thread to sew on buttons. Make a knot in the thread and slide the knot under the button by pushing the needle through from the right side. Place the button in position. Lay a pin across the top to keep the thread loose, sew back and forth across the pin. Wind the thread between the button and fabric to reinforce.

Secure snap fasteners with an over and over stitch. Sew each hole separately. Carry the thread on the wrong side to the next hole. Most snap-fasteners have a perforation through the centre. Sew one side of the fastener. Hold the garment closed and draw the thread through to place the second half of the fastener.

Ottawa News Letter

OTTAWA Echoes of the London conference of Commonwealth Prime Minister reverberated through the Canadian capital during the visit of Premier John Curtin of Australia.
At a press conference and during private conversations while in Ottawa, the Australian Prime Minister made it clear that, like Prime Minister King, he has no thought of the Empire automatically acting together on all world issues.

That the Canadian Prime Minister's views for individual decisions by the Dominions with concerted Commonwealth action only by free agreement of the member nations, pre-valued in London was more than ever evident from the utterances of Mr. Curtin while in Canada. As Mr. King already suggested in his address to the British Houses of Parliament, Mr. Curtin said the co-operation and deep understanding of Britain and the dominions might well form a model for a world organization for peace and security after the war.

8,500 Veterans
Placed in Jobs

More than 8,500 ex-service men of the present War have been placed in employment through national selective service in co-operation with the veterans' welfare officials of the Department of Pensions and National Health. The system of caring for discharged members of the armed forces is being expanded and improved so that when large-scale demobilization comes plans and machinery for restoring veterans to civil life will be perfected.

The scale of grants and benefits to discharge service men has been increased. Starting on June 1st, the allowance to those taking vocational training or completing their education receive $60 a month if single and $80 if married, together with allowances for dependent children. Those seeking employment, awaiting returns from a farm or business or who are temporarily incapacitated, receive $50 a month if single and $70 if married.

TIME BOMBS

Democracy, of course, means freedom — but freedom with responsibility.

If more of us took God on board as a pilot we would not get lost in so much foggy thinking,

Millions fight and millions die
That, out of all this fuss,
We may build a decent world
That starts with guys like us,

If madful of the past, and faithful in the present, nobody need ever be fearful of the future
It will take sand and grit — not soft soap — to clean up the mess we're in.

To find the secret of true greatness look for greatness in the other fellow.

It's striking a new note — not soft-peddling the discords — that will make world harmony.
